THE KASSON GENEALOGY.

Adam and Jane (Hall) Kasson emigrated from Belfast, Ireland, sometime in the year 1722, and landed in Boston, Mass., with their family, consisting of seven sons and two daughters.

From Boston they removed to Voluntown, Conn., where he died, Nov. 1, 1752, aged 71; his wife Mar. 31, 1767, aged 85. They called themselves Scotch-Irish, with some English blood intermixed; but some of their descendents claim to be of French descent, and left France in the time of the persecution of the huguenots.

The house that I now occupy was built by my grand-father, James Kasson, in 1760, and where my father Geo D. K. was born and died, and where I was born May, 1803. Therefore it has been in the Kasson name 122 years.

Thanks are returned to Wm. A. Kasson and others who have kindly assisted me in the following record.

G. M. KASSON.

NOTE.—In the following pages, in referring from one part to the other, or from the first to the second part, thus, 1 with a 2 at the left hand under 39, refers to 2d part or alliances, and from the 2d part to the 1st, the name of Kasson, with the number, will refer to the first part.

Thus in 2d part² Sarah Kasson³ 39 refer to that number, and you will find that Sarah was the daughter of James Kasson.²

It has been said that the Kassons in this country were all the descendants of Adam, who came over in 1722, but a few years since I heard of a James Kasson at Chester, in Penn. I wrote to inquire of his pedigree; he said, in reply, that he had been in this country but four years, his father (Henry) was then living in Sterling, Scotland, and his grand-father was at the battle of Waterloo.

APPENDIX.

Part 1, No. I.

In memory of Dea. Adam Kasson, who died, much lamented by all his friends and neighbors—being a tender father, loving husband, charitable to the poor, and a useful member of society, leaving behind an honest, fair character, leaving this world with a full surity of Christ, Nov. 1, 1752, in the 71st year of his age.

This stone was erected by Col. Archibald Kasson, 1780. The above was copied from that stone in Coventry, R. I., in Nov., 1854. In the Fall of 1854 I visited the old Kasson Homestead, (as it was called), situated in the towns of Sterling, Ct., and Coventry, R. I. It had then been in the Kasson name over 130 years, but was sold the Spring before.
G. M. K.

From my father, years ago, I obtained the following respecting the Kasson genealogy:

“The first Kasson that arrived in America landed at Boston. He was a spinning-wheel maker, an Irishman from the North of Ireland, from a small village near the town of Carrickfurgus. This small village was inhabited mostly by people by the name of Kasson. Some years since I was addressed by a gentlemanly Irishman, who, on learning that my name was Kasson, inquired if my ancestors were not from that place; he then gave much valuable information of our namesakes now living in the father-land. He represented them as a respectable set of inhabitants, and many of them well to do, and among the more respectable class of society. The wife of the first adventurer was an English lady.—The first spinning-wheel made in America is said to have been made by a Kasson.

"The trade continued to be carried on by the eldest sons through each generation down to my eldest brother,* when factories did away with hand spinning. They were, most of them, good musicians; but as great a peculiarity was, that they were very religious and frequently held the office of Deacon, and from this recommendation I think they were rather intelligent and had their share of the favors of the community."

The above record was received from Ambrose Kasson, by the politeness of Salmon Kasson Norton, of Great Barrington, Mass., Jan 11, 1868.

* The same may be said of our branch of the family.
